Stress-Free Christmas Shopping with Elite Image

Elite Image offers gift of time and peace of mind with two new packages.

Vancouver, BC: If you hate to shop, are strapped for time or already stressed with all the holiday hustle – Elite Image (EI) is ready to help with two new packages.

Just in time for the holiday season, EI has created a new Gifted package that helps you minimize stress during the most stressful time of the year. With this new service, the enthusiastic and eagle-eyed EI shoppers navigate the bustling shopping centres on your behalf to find your loved one the perfect gift of the season.

“Gifted is a great time-saver that helps to make Christmas shopping stress-free – especially for those who don’t particularly like to shop,” says Alicia Churchill, an Elite Image Consultant. “As personal shoppers, we’re here to make our clients’ lives easier. And that’s just what Gifted does.”

With this service, clients simply give Elite Image an idea for a present, and EI takes on the task and stress of Christmas shopping to find the ideal gift.

If you’re stumped for ideas, Elite Image can help with that too.

“In our work, we’ve found that many men don’t really know what their girlfriends or wives would like or want – and that’s our specialty,” adds Lindsay Wilkins, an Elite Image Consultant. “We know what a woman wants, and we can make your life easier by sourcing the absolute perfect gift for her.”

Or, better yet, gift your special someone with EI’s Quick-Start package. This new service makes an ideal Christmas present – especially if your partner takes hours to get ready, or says she has nothing to wear despite an overflowing closet of clothes.

The Quick-Start package is the perfect solution to help take the stress out of getting dressed by converting a closet full of clothes into multiple outfits for any occasion.

As an added bonus, the package also includes a fun and efficient day of shopping to round out your wardrobe and/or get a whole season of shopping done in just one day!

The Gifted and Quick-Start packages complement Elite Image’s other personal consulting services – including wardrobe consultations and evaluations, personal image makeovers, shopping guidance and much more. The Elite Image team can also work with a range of budgets and needs, from great to small.

As Vancouver’s leading image and fashion consultants, Elite Image specializes in cutting-edge fashion, image consulting and personal style services for men and women.
